ADAMS'S DEFENSE RECORDED TODAY

Defense in the Contest for the Governorship of Colorado Is Farcical So Far---Witnesses Fail to Identify Ballots.

[illegible] DENVER, Feb. 27.—The attorneys for Governor Adams are causing the ballots [illegible] the judicial contest to develop much [illegible] and asked the witness to [illegible]. Unless they change their [illegible] the ballots [illegible] tors and introduce stronger testimony it is expected that they may as well drop the [illegible].

This afternoon and tonight nearly a score of witnesses who put on the stand to identify their ballots among those classed by the experts as fraudulent. Many of the witnesses were foreigners who could neither read, write or understand English and the assistance of an interpreter was necessitated. The testimony offered was weak and only served to strengthen the Peabody case.

Example of Testimony.

As an example of the testimony offered, Lena Musnich and Anna Gessner, two Austrian women who could not even speak their own names, much less speak, read or write English, were put on the stand to pick out their ballots from those classed as fraudulent from their respective Denver precincts. According to their testimony through an interpreter both wrote "Democrats" at the head of their ballots. They also testified that they voted but one ballot. They were then asked by Attorney Rush, one of the attorneys for Adams to identify their ballots. Both added through the so-called fraudulent ballots from their precinct and each selected those ballots which they claimed they wrote. Attorney Rush extricated himself from the difficulty by inspecting the six ballots selected by the two women and finding the numbers corresponding to the numbers opposite their names on the poll book. He then took the two ballots, showed them to the witnesses and said "now, as a matter of fact, these are the ballots you wrote and the others you picked out you know nothing about, isn't that the case?"

The women both answered unkindly, "Yes, since they were both polite to understand by the attorney's questions that they were expected to give that kind of an answer. Attorney Wolfe of the Peabody counsel took exception to this method of questioning and it appeared to the committee that Attorney Rush was not on the stand and should put his questions directly and attempt to answer them for the witness.

Couldn't Write.

The two women were asked to write their names on a piece of blank paper. One wrote "Dena" and the other wrote "Dena." Both smiled cynically and shook their heads when they were asked to write the full word Democratic.

Louis Newman, a Denver saloon keeper of German descent was the other "star" witness for Adams. He identified ballot No. 55 from precinct 11, ward 7, as his own and it was found that the number agreed with the number of his ballot as recorded in the poll book. The word "Democratic" was written plainly on the ballot but when Newman was asked to write the word on a blank piece of paper he wrote "Demokat."

Still another witness, John Perry, who is a truck gardener, identified his ballot which was written "Democrat." He wrote the word Democratic correctly in the presence of the committee and when questioned as to the discrepancy in the word he said that he did not know how to spell this word on election day, but learned how to spell it last night.

Caller Is Caught.

Charles Culler identified his ballot from those called fraudulent from precinct 7, ward 11, the number of the ballot corresponding with the number on the poll book. Culler testified that he folded the ballot and placed [illegible] the ballot box through the slot [illegible] ballot box. The ballot with its [illegible] Thursday night was passed [illegible] by Attorney Wolfe for the inspection of the members of the investigating committee.

This same thing also happened in the case of [illegible] Moore, Hopkins of precinct 6, ward 11, who identified ballot No. 27 as his own, these claimed as a ballot cast by Expert Hourigan. Mr. Hopkins also testified that he folded his ballot and placed it in the box through the slot himself, but when the ballot was unfolded it was found to be too large to go in the slot without unfolding.

Saw "Nothing Crooked."

Robert [illegible] who was a Republican judge of election at precinct 6 ward 4, admitted on the stand that he, judges of the precinct did not comply with the law in conducting the election but he said that he believed that there was nothing "crooked about the voting."

A. D. Morgan, a former lawyer, identified his ballot from precinct 6 ward 11 among those classed as fraudulent. The number was 111, which corresponded with the number on the poll book opposite Morgan's name. Democratic arguments were made to prove any irregularities in the case.

Senator Milton L. Anderson who is now a Republican member of the Fifteenth general assembly, was placed on the stand tonight by the Adams attorneys. The ballot whose number opposite his name on the poll book of precinct 4 ward 8 being among those classed as fraudulent by Expert Hourigan. The Adams attorneys thought that they had a strong strike but when Senator Anderson failed to identify his ballot they got sore and attempted to assail his integrity. They experienced as good a time seat, however, when [illegible] from that precinct was produced and Senator Anderson identified it by his signature. After standing the ballot for some time, Wolfe sir, I can say. The writing resembles mine, but so far as I can, it is different. I have a number of other ballots just now that resemble my handwriting."

Saw Gangs of Repeaters.

[illegible] Anderson testified that he saw a number of gangs of repeaters [illegible] polling places [illegible] election day in charge of Democratic bosses.

[illegible] Nicols identified ballot No. 46 of precinct 6 ward 8 as his own, notwithstanding [illegible] it was classed as fraudulent. Without consulting the poll book Nicols said that he recollected the number of his ballot to be just. The ballot was then opened and was found to be its number.

W. G. Shaffer, an election judge of precinct 16 ward 4, also identified his ballot among those classed as fraudulent by Expert Hourigan. The number was 39.

THE CARNEGIE LIBRARY.

THE announcement that the Carnegie library is almost completed and will be opened about the first of next month is highly gratifying to the entire population of Colorado Springs which has watched the construction of the beautiful building with more than the ordinary pride with which local interest is regarded.

Colorado Springs has long needed a public library such as this one will be for the old Free Library several years ago became unable to supply the demands made on it. No criticism is to be made of its management—indeed it deserves great credit for accomplishing such excellent results with such limited means—but the growth of the city has been so rapid that the finances of the old library could not keep pace with it. Through the generosity of Mr. Carnegie and General Palmer this situation is now relieved and Colorado Springs becomes the possessor of an institution that will be of the highest value as a factor in the intellectual life of the city.

It is quite fitting that the munificence of the two men who provided the necessary funds and building site should be acknowledged by some such means as is suggested by the library board the placing of bronze portrait medallions in the building. It is suggested that the cost of these medallions be borne by popular subscription and the idea certainly should be a popular one. Colorado Springs is under lasting obligations to these benefactors and the acknowledgment of the debt in this way is peculiarly appropriate.

TAFT AND THE PHILIPPINES.

SECRETARY TAFT divulged no secret when he said a few days ago that the ultimate purpose of the Republican party is to give the Filipinos self government as soon as the people are fitted for it. Sir John Sharp Williams the Democratic House leader was wrong when he said that there was not much difference between the Democratic and Republican attitude on the subject. The Democratic demand that a date for granting self government be fixed now is a very different thing from the Administration's idea of making self government contingent on the advancement of the Filipinos toward the requisite degree of stability.

The close relations between Secretary Taft and the President especially where insular affairs are concerned makes it evident that the former Governor of the Philippines speaks for his chief in this matter. But President Roosevelt's views were already too well known to need further explanation so he has repeatedly expressed himself in favor of self government for the Filipinos but always with the proviso that they must first demonstrate their fitness for it. The requisite conditions as outlined by Secretary Taft are the establishment of a reasonable public opinion that might be relied upon to restrain radicalism the opening up of interland communication and the general setting of conditions.

The question of ultimate independence for the Filipinos is one that concerns the future far more than the present and in view of the rapid progress which the Islanders are making now it would be a good deal better for Mr. Williams and the Congressmen who accept his ideas to help satisfy the needs of the present rather than waste time in theoretical discussion of that phase of the question which is to be solved by coming generations. But now Congress has under consideration the Curtis bill which provides for the free admission of all Philippine products except sugar and tobacco on which the duties would be reduced to 25 per cent of the Dingley rate. At present the Filipinos are forced to pay 75 per cent of the Dingley rates on all goods sent to this country a barrier which pretty effectually shuts them out of the American market.

Next year the law will go into effect which provides that all goods shipped between this country and the Philippines either way must be carried in American ships. This remarkable measure will probably put a stop to commerce between Atlantic coast ports and the Islands for there are no ships engaged in that trade, and it is scarcely likely that any will be built especially for it. Freight rates on American ships in the Trans Pacific service are so high that the effect of this law is likely to be detrimental to Philippine commerce, and unless the tariff schedules are revised the outlook for the commercial development of the Islands is indeed gloomy. It is not so much agitation for independence that they need as it is laws for their immediate welfare.

SMOOT.

THE Smoot case which has dragged along for a full year is nearing its end. The testimony is all in the arguments made and the Senate committee will soon make its report. Then the entire body will decide irrevocably whether or not the Mormon is to be permitted to retain his seat.

So far as Smoot is individually concerned there is little to be said against him. He is not a polygamist as was Brigham Roberts and when called upon to testify in his own behalf he made out a pretty good case for himself. He is a Mormon, but if the question of religion only were involved it would be difficult to see how the Senate could in simple justice expel him.

But if the evidence collected by the committee shows anything it shows that the Mormon church is much more than a religious organization. Religion was the primary object but business and politics are so inextricably mixed up in it that neither can ever have precedence. Add to this a liberal injection of crime, mostly in the past, if its true, and the standing of the Mormon church is complete. Of the most remarkable atrocities are to be credited the Mountain Meadow massacre is not the only bloody stain on the Mormon escutcheon and polygamy not the only offense against statutory law.

The Mormon church is the most perfectly constructed machine in the country. It is a triumph of organization. Lumsden is not in the same class. There are wheels within wheels and each one is so well oiled that there is no friction. He goes to present with his hand on the throat and in his breath that surrounds him the suggestion should have only their permission before he dared announce himself a candidate for the senate until it seemed that the time was ripe. He appeals to minor officials all the time. It is only necessary to show how absolutely the church dominates the political situation of the territory and the way this is done in business dealings for a Mormon to act contrary to the church authorities in any walk of life means ruin.

It has been shown that polygamy is still practiced by those who contracted plural marriages and also that in many other ways the law of the United States are violated. Allegiance to the church takes precedence over allegiance to the land. The argument that because Mormon immigration comes to the spirit of American institutions and is assimilated by them excludes them is the point to be considered in determining the fitness of Smoot or any other Mormon to sit in the United States Congress. It is not the man himself but the system he stands for. Of this there is but little doubt. Smoot is a bright and clever American citizen and a loyal one as far as can be ascertained but on that reason he ought to be summarily expelled.

In the year two thousand and four Providence decided that Roosevelt was the divine right to keep the coal strike going and now it remains for Kaiser is about to exercise his divine right to end a coal strike. It Downie and the Czar don't hurry up and do something to show their divine qualities they are liable to lose caste.

There seems to be some doubt as to whether or not General Kuropatkin won the recent fight with Oyama but there is no doubt of the victory of the Russian army in the terrific battle of the Nevsky Prospect. It was a glorious triumph and will shed almost as much lustre on the Russian arms as the naval victory at Dogger Bank.

Bishop Potter says that the most conspicuous name is the convivial note. Yes it is especially conspicuous when a bunch of convivialists begin to blow in the five dollar notes.

It is suggested that President Morales of San Domingo ought to drop the last two letters from his name and then live up to the new spelling.

Senator Smoot's declaration that one wife is all he wants has probably caused Mrs. Smoot to wonder just what he meant.

The first payment since October, 1902, will be made by the brokers this month, and will be used in connection with the Ascough cases. The exchange is also in receipt of $300 from the sale of the Tejon street property, which will be used in connection with the Ascough cases.

The membership has been increased from 50 to 75, and the price of seats has been raised from $50 to $75. The membership is now full and the price of seats has been advanced to $75 and is at the limit, and cannot be raised higher as the by-laws now stand.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT REPORT SHOWS SPLENDID CONDITIONS

Actual Death Rate in City Only 12 Per Cent Per 1,000 Population---Milk and Cream Analyses Show Extremely High Averages.

Dr. C. B. Hanford of the city health department has completed his report of the department's work for the month of January, and it shows that the city is in an exceptionally healthful condition. The total number of deaths for the month was 32, or 12 per 1,000 of population per annum. Of this number 10 were from imported tuberculosis cases, making the actual death rate for the city 12 per cent. The city is entirely free from diphtheria, smallpox and other contagious diseases, with the exception of one case of scarlet fever. The analysis of city water shows it to be entirely pure.

The milk analyses of samples taken from the 28 delivery wagons doing business in the city shows a decided amount of improvement in milk. IMPORTANT BILLS ENDORSED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Several important bills now before the state legislature were endorsed at the meeting of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. The bill for civil service reform, known as Senate bill No. 55, and House bill No. 18, which was recommended by the Civil service reform associations of Denver and Colorado Springs and the Civic Federation of Pueblo, was endorsed.

The bill for which the Colorado State Forestry association is spoken, providing for the preservation of the timber in mountain regions, the conserving of the water supply for the irrigation season, and the establishing of a forestry branch of the state agricultural department, was also approved.

Another bill endorsed was that authorizing cities of the first and second classes to acquire, establish and maintain public parks, etc., to establish park commissions and define their powers.

Endorsement was also given to the bill to prevent and punish vandalism. This bill is aimed at that sort of vandalism which is annually practiced to the great detriment of scenic attractions and which became so obnoxious in the Garden of the Gods last summer that the Gazette and the Chamber of Commerce started a vigorous campaign for its suppression and punishment.

Resolutions similar to those adopted by the Denver Chamber of Commerce remonstrating against the reduction in the present tariff in favor of Philippine sugars, were also passed. They point out that such discrimination would paralyze the industries of Colorado whose mine factories are now capable of producing annually 150,000,000 pounds of refined sugar and which will give employment to over 5,000 men.

DEATH AT A DRUG STORE

W. W. VICKERS EXPIRED SUDDENLY IN DRUG STORE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON FROM HEMORRHAGE OF THE LUNGS.

W. W. Vickers, a well known cattle owner of this city, fell dead in Muslek's drug store, on Fontanero street, about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The deceased resided with his family at 1938 North Tejon street, and had gone to the drug store one block from his home after medicine, when he was suddenly seized with a hemorrhage of the lungs and falling to the floor expired within a few minutes, notwithstanding the efforts of Dr. LeRoy Rice, who was hastily summoned.

Mrs. Vickers is now visiting relatives and friends in New Jersey, and yesterday a telegram was sent to notify her of the death of her husband. Another telegram was sent to a partner in the cattle business, Mr. Rollins.

The deceased was 40 years of age and came to this city about eight years ago. Last summer he made a trip to England, spending several months among relatives in the old country, and returned here last September. He has no family aside from his wife, but he had a host of friends in this city and Denver. While no arrangements for the funeral will be made pending instructions from Mrs. Vickers, it is probable that the body will be sent east for interment.

ANNEXATION

Representative J. D. Stephen Introduces Bill in House of Interest to This City and Colorado City.

A bill providing for the method of procedure when two or more contiguous cities wish to join, was introduced in yesterday's session of the Fifteenth general assembly by Representative John B. Stephen of El Paso and Teller counties. This bill is thought to have been introduced in order to facilitate plans for the joining of Colorado Springs and Colorado City. Prominent citizens of both cities are back of the movement.

The bill provides that the question shall be submitted any time to the property holders upon their vote to have it submitted, and that the property owners and taxpayers shall alone have a vote upon the measure.

When You Have a Cold.

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquifies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This Remedy will cure a cough in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. AMUSEMENTS

WEST'S BIG JUBILEE MINSTRELS.

In Wm. H. West's Big Jubilee Minstrels, which will be the notable attraction at the Opera house tomorrow evening, will be seen the culmination of all that is original and up-to-date in minstrelsy. In this age things must be done in a big way to attract the masses, and the stupendous business done by the William H. West Big Jubilee Minstrels all over the country is ample evidence of this fact. Compared to other so-called minstrel organizations this famous and long-established attraction is like one of the mammoth three-ringed circuses to an insignificant sideshow. Costly European acts, the sweetest singers, the funniest comedians, and innumerable other features make the William H. West's Big Jubilee Minstrels the greatest drawing attraction of its kind in the World, and absolutely unequaled in the annals of amusements. One of the great features this season is the engagement of Frederick V. Bowers, the famous author of "Because" and "Always," in his great singing sensation, direct from his 26 weeks' engagement at the St. Louis fair.

Mr. Bowers' whole life has been devoted to minstrelsy, and in the development of an amusement that has a perennial hold upon the affections of the great American public, as does this popular Southern institution, he has proved a leader. He has always kept in advance of the times, and his productions usually include novelties and features that have made it a necessity to have multiple companies to fill the season's dates.

THE EARL OF PAWTUCKET.

"The Earl of Pawtucket" with Lewis Morrison and the original Lyceum New York company, comes to the Opera house on Thursday evening, August 3. Those of sparkling comedy will greet a genuine delectation to be provided. Springs theatre-goers. The engagement is notable from the fact that Lawrence D'Orsay, the star about whose personality Mr. Thomas owes that he wrote the play, will, of course, be seen to fit and no of Lord Cardington, the runaway English peer, whose attempts to disgrace himself as an American get him into all sorts of humorous difficulties. Augustus Thomas' previous stage successes, "Arizona," "Alabama," "In Mizzoura" and "On the Quiet," had none of them produced the discriminating public for high-class farce on the lines of "The Earl of Pawtucket," and Mr. Thomas' frank declaration that he wrote the piece to prove that his friend, Lawrence D'Orsay, was really "true," threw a great white light upon the inspiration and the methods by which the hitherto incomparable writer of polite melodrama at one stroke took his place at the head of the class as a writer of light farce. For, be it known, every member of half a dozen New York clubs knew as soon as he saw "The Earl of Pawtucket" on the stage that Thomas had simply transferred D'Orsay, mannerisms, personality, accent, blonde mustache and all, from his social haunts to what were to be the subsequent scenes of his professional effort.

A LITTLE WANT AD BRINGS BIG RESULTS

A Colossal Offering of Spring and Winter Merchandise.

New spring goods pour in on all sides. Every freight adds to the list which is growing by leaps and bounds. Indeed, it is getting larger much faster than the list of winter stuff is growing small. It was our aim to make an advance display and start a movement of spring merchandise, yet we are compelled to dispose of winter goods. What to do has been a perplexing question, we assure you. The summary below tells in brief what the concentrated efforts of this store's force has accomplished.
